The Latin American Studies Center Presents:

“Poverty, Policy, and the World Bank in Mexico.”

Karen Caplan is Assistant Professor of Latin American history at Rutgers University-Newark. She is the author of Local Liberalisms: Mexico’s Indigenous Villagers and the State, 1812-1857, forthcoming from Stanford University Press. Currently, she is a Fellow at the University of Maryland’s Latin American Studies Center, where she is beginning work on the project to be discussed in this talk.

Refreshments will be served