Karen Caplan is Assistant Professor of Latin American history at Rutgers University-Newark. She is the author of Local Liberalisms: Mexico’s Indigenous Villagers and the State, 1812-1857, forthcoming from Stanford University Press. Currently, she is a Fellow at the University of Maryland’s Latin American Studies Center, where she is beginning work on the project to be discussed in this talk.