

The Latin American Studies Center Presents:

"Poverty, Policy, and the World Bank in Mexico."

Karen Caplan is Assistant Professor of Latin American history at Rutgers University-Newark. She is the author of Local Liberalisms: Mexico's Indigenous Villagers and the State, 1812-1857, forthcoming from Stanford University Press. Currently, she is a Fellow at the University of Maryland's Latin American Studies Center, where she is beginning work on the project to be discussed in this talk.

Refreshments will be served

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Wednesday, October 8, 2007
12:00 - 1:00 PM
Holzapfel Hall, 0128-B