invite you to celebrate:*

THE INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY.

"WOMEN IN LATIN AMERICA"

By Dr. Egleé L. Zent

Dr Zent will examine women's experiences and influence from the prehispanic period to the present day in a variety of Latin American countries. From the "curanderas" (healers) to landing on the moon, Latin American women were there, smoothing the way for you. Women's experiences in Latin America have helped in rural and urban areas; they have contributed from every day life and during periods of extreme social upheaval to change the history of our countries. Come and learn who they are and how you too could be part of history one day!

Egleé is the mother of two sons, she has a hybrid/eclectic formation including conservation biology, art history, botany, anthropology, and has dedicated to conduct research among Indigenous peoples of the Venezuelan Amazon.
