

The Latin American Studies Center Presents

Recent Work in Nahuatl Studies

Friday, March 7 - Saturday, March 8, 2014
St. Mary's Hall Multi-purpose Room
University of Maryland, College Park

Friday, March 7

- 3:00 pm John Millhauser, "Poverty in the Aztec Empire: Ambiguities in the Ethnohistoric and Archaeological Record"
- 3:30 pm Janice Robertson, "On the Workings of the Codex Mendoza's Place-Name Signs: Decolonizing Aztec Picture-Writing"
- 4:00 pm Jerome Offner, "Cognitive Landscapes in the Codex Xolotl: Reading an Authentic Nahuatl Text"
- 4:30 pm Comment, Ralph Bauer

Saturday, March 8

- 8:45 am Breakfast
- 9:15 am Pete Sigal, "Queering and Querying Nahuas: From Bernardino de Sahagún to La Otra Conquista"
- 9:45 am John F. Schwaller, "The Mexican Marathon: Running as a Feature of Pre-Columbian Ritual"
- 10:15 am Comment, Juan Daneri
- 10:30 am Break
- 10:45 am Willard Gingerich, "Verse-Phrase Structure of Oral Poetics in a few Nahuatl Texts"
- 11:15 am Ann De León, "A Reflection on the Representation and Enactment of Aztec Warfare in Popular Cultural Artifacts"
- 11:45 am Comment, Alan Sandstrom
- 12:30 pm Lunch

For more information please contact Professor James Maffie at maffiej@umd.edu.